

PRESS RELEASE

Electronica Munich November 2016

EDAC attended electronica and showcased a vast array of interconnect solutions.

Approximately 73,000 trade visitors from more than 80 countries attended the fair in Munich. Making it one of the largest - must attend events in Europe for the electronics industry.

We were pleased to welcome existing customers and a large number of new customers to our bright and airy stand shared with sister companies MH Connectors & Norcomp who along with EDAC make up the EDAC group of companies, who were celebrating 50 years in business.

On show was a snapshot of solutions we are able to offer including new and innovative waterproof connectors, alongside many established favorites like edge card, D sub, USB – A, B, & C Types and HDMI.

EDAC were also able to showcase a number of custom applications where products have been engineered to meet customers' demands for high reliability applications, like wind turbines, data storage, and measuring instrumentation. All custom made solutions are engineered to meet customer's specific needs and challenges.
